

AbbVie announces global patent license with Momena

07 November 2018 | News

Momena's U.S. license will begin on November 20, 2023, and will not be accelerated by the entry of companies who have already taken a license.

AbbVie has announced patent license agreements with Momena over its proposed biosimilar adalimumab product. Under the terms of the agreements, AbbVie will grant Momena a non-exclusive license on specified dates to AbbVie's intellectual property relating to HUMIRA in the United States and in various other countries around the world in which AbbVie has intellectual property:

Momena's U.S. license will begin on November 20, 2023, and will not be accelerated by the entry of companies who have already taken a license.

In the European Union, Momena can launch upon approval from the European Medicines Agency.

Momena will pay royalties to AbbVie for licensing its HUMIRA patents and acknowledges the validity of the licensed patents. AbbVie will make no payments to Momena. The precise terms are confidential between the parties.
