BioSpectrum
the business of Bio & Health Sciences
ASIA EDITION

Ping An Good Doctor launches groundbreaking service

June 10, 2019 | News

Caters to the needs of adults, the elderly and children by appointing dedicated doctors to conduct one-on-one consultations.

China based Ping An Healthcare and Technology Company Limited, the world's leading one-stop healthcare ecosystem platform, has launched the innovative "Private Doctor" service in the Ping An Good Doctor App to mark a new era of medical and healthcare practices.

The one-stop platform offers comprehensive, high quality medical and healthcare services, including health management, real-time medical consultations, second opinions by experienced doctors and offline medical consultations for more than 200 million people in the emerging middle class.

The newly launched Private Doctor service by Ping An Good Doctor caters to the needs of adults, the elderly and children by appointing dedicated doctors to conduct one-on-one consultations.

The system operates round the clock to satisfy holistic medical and healthcare demands, such as real-time medical consultations and offline appointments for outpatient services at hospitals. Doctors employed by Ping An Good Doctor are from mostly Class III Grade A hospitals with over 10 years of professional practice experience each.