111, Inc. launches video interview series on China's Healthcare Landscape

16 August 2019 | News

111 Insight will focus on hot topics in the healthcare industry through interviews with industry experts, investors, and healthcare professionals.

Starting in August 2019, 111, Inc., a leading integrated online and offline healthcare platform, will launch "111 Insight", a video series on the development of the healthcare industry in China.

The series is produced by 111, Inc., and will be hosted by Dr Gang Yu, Co-Founder and Executive Chairman, and Mr Junling Liu, Co-Founder, Chairman and CEO. 111 Insight will focus on hot topics in the healthcare industry through interviews with industry experts, investors, and healthcare professionals.

The healthcare industry in China is evolving rapidly and there is increasing global interest in China's health reform and policies. Among the hot topics are how the internet is reshaping China's healthcare industry and pharmaceutical delivery, how new government policies and regulation impact the healthcare industry, how new technologies affect private health insurance, and the opportunities and challenges facing China's ageing population, etc.

The first video in series is How the Internet is Changing the Healthcare Industry, hosted by Mr Junling Liu, Co-Founder, Chairman and CEO of 111, Inc. with guests Ms Angela Xu, Vice President and CMO of Eli Lilly China, and Dr Darren Ji, CEO of Elpiscience Biopharma, Ltd.

Video Link:
111 IR website: http://ir.111.com.cn
Tencent video: https://v.qq.com/x/page/t09130n33vi.html

Topics include:

1. Quality of medical resources through internet-based healthcare platforms
2. Healthcare services - from healthcare delivery to patient-focused models
3. 111, Inc. - building a revolutionary healthcare service system

The next instalments in the "111 Insight" series are entering production and will delve into the impact of technology on healthcare in China.