Singapore: Global natural healthcare company, Rapid Nutrition, appointed diversified investment and financial services group Octa Phillip Securities, to provide its shareholders access to their electronic trading platform and services.

"We look forward to furthering our ongoing relationship with Octa Phillip and to now being publicly listed on the GXG stock exchange," said Rapid Nutrition managing director, Mr Simon St Ledger. "This relationship will make it easier for our shareholders to trade in Rapid Nutrition shares and will help our company continue to grow in providing the best health and wellness products across the globe." Rapid Nutrition began trading on the GXG Markets OTC under the symbol RNL since November 2012.

Mr Nicholas Pereza-Mathews, head, global markets, Octa Phillip Securities, added that their global market service provides custody and dealing for shareholders in Australian companies, which have listed on overseas exchanges.

Earlier this year, Rapid Nutrition announced the purchase of a 15 percent stake in Motivate Health Technology, a US-based health technology company, to create a revolutionary weight loss video app to further support the company's premium weight loss program.
