BioSpectrum
the business of Bio & Health Sciences
ASIA EDITION

Brent Denning joins Docquity as regional head for South East Asia

October 19, 2020 | News

"we are uniquely positioned to connect healthcare professionals, support medical learning, and ultimately deliver better patient care" says Brent Denning, Regional head of SEA, Docquity.

Docquity - Asia's largest and fastest growing professional network of doctors, today announced Mr. Brent Denning as its new Regional Head for the SEA business. Brent has over two decades of experience working within the life sciences industry and has held several Senior management & Country Management roles, leading teams across Australia, Japan and the Philippines. Brent will leverage his experience to guide Docquity through its next phase of growth, as it continues in its journey to become the professional network of choice for doctors globally, empowering doctors to collaborate, share, learn & drive better outcomes for the patient.

"I'm excited to be joining Docquity. The company leverages technology to create and build a community focused on healthcare. Healthcare has never been more important, and with our powerful, ever-growing network of doctors, we are uniquely positioned to connect healthcare professionals, support medical learning, and ultimately deliver better patient care," said Brent Denning, Regional head of SEA, Docquity.

"As digital usage increases, Docquity is uniquely positioned to develop an integrated ecosystem of healthcare professionals, Medical associations, Medical Institutions and Commercial Medical institutions to collaborate and drive positive outcomes for the patient," says Amit Vithal, Docquity Co-Founder & CBO.

Brent will be a part of Docquity's core management team & will be starting out in Manilla, Philippines before moving into Singapore, when the restrictions of the pandemic eases out.

Docquity is the largest & fastest growing professional network of doctors with over 50% of the total doctors in S.E Asia as members of the Docquity's platform. The company is headquartered in Singapore and has 170+ team members across S.E Asia with offices in Singapore, Indonesia, Philippines, Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam and India. The Docquity platform serves over 250,000 doctors, 100+ medical associations, 10+ hospitals, 30+ global Pharmaceuticals & other medical enterprises on its platform.

Docquity is a Series B funded company with lead investors including ITOCHU Corporation Japan, Singapore Press Holdings, Genesia Ventures Japan, Spiral Ventures amongst others.