BioSpectrum
the business of Bio & Health Sciences
ASIA EDITION

Zuellig Pharma partners with Moderna to supply COVID-19 vaccine in Asia

April 29, 2021 | News

Partnership to supply the COVID-19 Vaccine Moderna in Southeast Asia, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan

Zuellig Pharma, a Singapore based healthcare services provider in Asia, and Moderna, Inc., a US based biotechnology company pioneering messenger RNA (mRNA) therapeutics and vaccines, have announced a new partnership with Zuellig Pharma's division, ZP Therapeutics, to supply the COVID-19 Vaccine Moderna in Southeast Asia, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan.

"Our collaboration with Moderna to supply the COVID-19 Vaccine Moderna in Asia reaffirms Zuellig Pharma's commitment to help fight the global pandemic. We are committed to making healthcare accessible through innovation, commercial excellence and robust in-market capabilities that will not only improve healthcare but will expand patient access. We are drawing upon our expertise, resources, and extensive distribution network to support governments and where allowed private healthcare institutions across the region in implementing end-to-end vaccination programs. As importantly, we are working closely with governments to help them plan for the security of their vaccine supply," said John Graham, Chief Executive Officer, Zuellig Pharma.

Zuellig Pharma is one of the largest healthcare services groups in Asia. It provides world-class distribution, digital and commercial services to over 350,000 medical facilities and its more than 1,000 clients, which include the top 20 pharmaceutical companies in the world.