Sygnature is a world-class provider of outsourced drug discovery services to leading pharma and biotech companies. The business operates from two state-of-the-art science facilities in the UK, at BioCity in Nottingham and Alderley Park in Cheshire. The company has a presence in both the Boston area and South San Francisco in the US. Sygnature provides integrated drug discovery and preclinical services to clients across eight key therapeutic areas, including oncology, neuroscience and inflammation & immunology.

Sygnature's CEO Simon Hirst said: "We are delighted to have Five Arrows as our chosen investor. Five Arrows has a strong track record in supporting healthcare companies to grow through organic means as well as through acquisition. They have, through Rothschild & Co, a unique and unrivalled platform for supporting their investee companies."

Sygnature's existing private equity investor, Phoenix Equity Partners, is exiting as a shareholder, having supported the company since September 2017. This impressive growth has been driven both organically and via strategic acquisitions.
