

Medical training in Vietnam attracts international students

01 June 2022 | News

With the steady development of education, Vietnam has become one of the primary choices for many international students looking to study abroad

In the last few days of May, many colleagues from India, Honduras, Nigeria, etc., came to Vietnam to be admitted to the Medical Major of Hong Bang International University (HIU). This is a significant milestone for the Vietnamese board of education, which ultimately targets the education export and marks the trustworthy development of the Medical training in Vietnam.

In May 2022, Hong Bang International University (HIU) accepted more than 30 Indian students who came to Vietnam for a Bachelor's degree in Medical study entirely in English. The programme development is based upon the Ministry of Education and Training and Ministry of Health standards. At the same time, it reformed the medical training programmes of advanced countries globally. There are a total of six years with twelve semesters.

HIU is a multi-majors University. The school comprises various programs and majors, including Health Science concentrates on principal sectors, such as Medical, Dental, Pharmaceutical, Nursing, Rehabilitation Techniques, Medical Examiner, etc. Those are currently training in thirty-six Vietnamese and English programs and affiliating worldwide in most essential sectors needed for social development.