VinBrain becomes NVIDIA inception premier member

Vietnam-based health tech startup VinBrain has become a Premier member of NVIDIA Inception, a global programme that provides cutting-edge startups with access to accelerated computing resources and more.

By teaming up with NVIDIA, VinBrain is poised to transform HealthTech innovation in Southeast Asia, building on its previous successful collaborations with Microsoft and Stanford University.

As a Premier member of NVIDIA Inception, VinBrain has the advantage of being an early adopter of NVIDIA's latest hardware innovations. Moreover, VinBrain receives ongoing technical support by regularly meeting with R&D experts, empowering the company to design and train advanced artificial intelligence (AI) models and seamlessly integrate AI systems into clinical workflows. With this capability, VinBrain is better equipped to serve hundreds of hospitals across Vietnam, the United States, and Southeast Asian nations with optimal efficiency.

VinBrain's AI product suite, including DrAid, AIScaler, and SenMe (aka AIviCare) is now featured on the NVIDIA Accelerated Apps Catalog.
