

Fujifilm to reorganise Medical Systems Group Companies in Japan

19 July 2023 | News

Strengthening medical systems business structure to accelerate growth

Fujifilm Corporation has announced that it will reorganise its Medical Systems group companies in Japan to strengthen its Medical Systems business structure. Fujifilm will reorganise its group companies in Japan involved in the Medical Systems business based on their functional roles to further strengthen each function, including business strategy, R&D, and sales and maintenance services. The reorganisation is scheduled to be completed in the summer of 2024.

The functions of business strategy and R&D at Fujifilm Healthcare Corporation will be consolidated into Fujifilm Corporation. The domestic sales functions of Fujifilm Healthcare will be consolidated into Fujifilm Medical Co., Ltd., a sales company in Japan for medical equipment and related products.

In addition, maintenance service functions will be consolidated by integrating Fujifilm Healthcare Systems Corporation, a subsidiary of Fujifilm Healthcare, into Fujifilm Medical Service Solution Co., Ltd., a subsidiary of Fujifilm Medical.

Fujifilm will expand its Medical Systems business by developing and providing higher-quality diagnostic solutions, contributing to improving the quality of medical care and maintaining and enhancing people's health.