BIOPLUS-INTERPHEX KOREA 2025: The Ultimate Biopharma Innovation Hub Returns to Seoul

February 26, 2025 | News

The future of biopharmaceutical innovation will take center stage at BIOPLUS-INTERPHEX KOREA (BIX) 2025, returning on October 15-17, 2025, at Coex, Seoul. To explore the most recent developments influencing the future of healthcare, BIX 2025 will bring together experts, innovators, and thought leaders from around the world.

A Leading Center for Biopharma Excellence

BIX has established itself as a must-attend event for professionals across the entire biopharmaceutical value chain. The exhibition and conference will feature innovations in biopharmaceutical development, manufacturing, and advanced biopharma technologies, giving participants unmatched access to the most recent market developments.

Spanning 30+ specialized conference sessions, BIX 2025 will serve as a platform for global experts to discuss key industry challenges and breakthroughs, covering everything from advanced drug delivery systems to state-of-the-art bioprocessing solutions. As the World's Most Tangible Bio-healthcare Convention, BIX 2025 will bring together thought leaders and pioneers to showcase the latest advancements that are shaping the future of healthcare.

Growing International Business Prospects

BIX 2025 is a gateway to global business expansion. With the participation of leading companies and decision-makers, attendees will gain access to exclusive networking opportunities, one-on-one partnering meetings, and industry-wide collaborations that drive innovation and market growth.

Through tailored BIX sponsorship programs, companies can maximize their visibility among key industry players, while the Open Innovation platform allows businesses to present groundbreaking technologies to top-tier investors, media, and corporate executives. The event will also feature Docent Tours, where industry influencers will provide guided insights into the latest trends and technologies on display.

Why Attend?

Exhibition: Connect with domestic and international decision-makers from R&D to distribution.

Conference: Gain industry insights from renowned experts covering the latest global issues and technology trends.

Networking & Partnering: Exclusive events and one-on-one meetings to foster strategic collaborations.

Open Innovation: Showcase innovative solutions to bio-investors, media, and industry leaders.

Following the success of BIX 2024, which welcomed 10,785 visitors, 232 companies, and 150 speakers from 15 countries, this year's edition is set to elevate opportunities for both exhibitors and attendees.
