Siemens Healthineers and Singapore's SGH partners to advance medical diagnostics innovation

March 7, 2025 | News

Sings strategic Memorandum of Understanding (MOU)

The Siemens Healthineers headquarters in Erlangen, Germany and Singapore General Hospital (SGH) team have announced a 5-year strategic partnership. It is a significant milestone that will allow us to advance medical innovation, clinical education, and improve patient outcomes together.

Siemens Healthineers aims to enhance diagnostics and treatment protocols through the development of new technologies, clinical solutions, and data-driven approaches.

The importance of education and training in providing SGH with the latest knowledge and skills cannot be overstated. Siemens Healthineers is committed to building expertise and capacity to support SGH's provision of better patient care by partnering with them on hands-on training, workshops, and knowledge-sharing initiatives.

The Future-ready Healthcare program lays the groundwork for future collaboration topics in AI-driven diagnostics, digital health solutions, and sustainability. The Siemens Healthineers Diagnostic Imaging Division is already a valued partner of SGH, and through this strategic Memorandum of Understanding (MOU), we will collaborate to develop ideas and implement action plans that will have a lasting impact on patients, healthcare professionals and the entire healthcare industry.
