Obamacare replacement bill has been finally approved in the house. The revised American Health Care Act passed on a 217-213 vote. The bill now heads to the Senate

While declaring the same Trump said, “The bill will pass the Senate, calling Obamacare "essentially dead. This is a great plan. I actually think it will get even better. This is a repeal and replace of Obamacare. Make no mistake about it.”

Trump argued the health care process has unified the GOP. "We've developed a bond," he said. "This has really brought the Republican Party together.
