September 5, 2017 | News

Avella's new mobile app provides information about a variety of pain and addiction management medications available from different manufacturers, all in one place.

Avella, a national accredited specialty pharmacy, providing individualized care and support to patients, has launched a new mobile app aimed at care providers who manage patients dealing with chronic pain or an addiction to pain medication.

This Pain and Addiction Management Mobile App will provide much-needed guidance and support for providers in the wake of the opioid epidemic and tightening regulations around the prescribing of certain pain medications.

Avella's new mobile app provides information about a variety of pain and addiction management medications available from different manufacturers, all in one place. Prescribers can search for clinical information by medication name or category.

Users can also access powerful tools like opioid converters, which can be used to transition patients to a new medication while maintaining safety and efficacy of treatment, along with drug dosage calculators. Evidence-based prescribing guidelines from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the American Society of Addiction Medicine and other renowned organizations are also easily accessible within the app.

The Pain and Addiction Management Mobile App from Avella is available on the Google Play or Apple App store. Providers can search for "Pain Management Medication App."
