

Dr. Amit Bhanot, India Country Director and Chief of Party, USAID's Frontier Health Market (FHM) Engage programme, said, "WOHLA is designed to mobilise private sector resources, foster partnerships, and implement targeted interventions to cultivate an ecosystem that prioritizes the symbiotic relationship between women's reproductive health and professional advancement. The benefits are far-reaching and may even eliminate genderbased violence."